

What To Do If You Have To Miss Class

THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND

- * It is important to understand the Universities absences and attendance policy.
- * Missing class for any reason does not excuse a student from the work that is missed/required.
- * No matter the reason for an absence, depending on your professors classroom policy, it may never be "excused".
- * Your class syllabus should outline your professors attendance policy along with how and when you should communicate with them about an absence.

STEPS YOU SHOULD TAKE

- * If you are sick: Schedule an appointment with a medical professional:
 - DePauw Health & Wellness Center: 765-658-4555
 - After Hours/Weekend Care Options
- * Email your professors and let them know the following:
 - that you will miss class and why
 - when you think you will be able to return
 - If you need to miss more than one class, continue to communicate with your professors. during your absence.

CARE TEAM

- * Help connecting with campus resources
- * Coach students on how to talk with their professors about many different issues
- * Assist students through the medical withdrawal process

The CARE Team helps connect students, that are struggling, to campus support services. The CARE Team does not verify absences nor does it have the ability to provide an excuse for any missed classes.

If you anticipate missing a week of classes due to illness or injury the CARE Team, in addition to your communication with them, can help you communicate this to your professors. The CARE Team cannot excuse you from any class.

IDEAS TO HELP YOU NOT FALL BEHIND IN CLASS

- * Reach out to your classmates and ask for the notes
- * Work with your professors on alternative ways to stay engaged in the coursework
- * Ask for extensions when applicable but understand this may not be possible in each class
- * Ask for help! If you aren't sure where to go for help, reach out to the CARE Team.
- * If you have a chronic illness or anticipate missing a week of classes due to an illness/injury, reach out to the CARE Team for help connecting to resources
